

CRAIN'S

NEW YORK BUSINESS®

Date: October 4-10, 2010

Impressions: 157,950

Page: 25

BUSINESS LIVES

EXECUTIVE MOVES

The Public Theater:

Sandra E. Davis, 49, has been named director of development, effective Oct. 12. She is currently the director of leadership gifts and special campaigns at the Metropolitan Opera and was previously the director of development at the Seattle Opera.

Marks Paneth & Shron: Jeanne P. Goulet, 62, has joined as a senior tax consultant to launch the firm's new services for emerging growth companies and entrepreneurs. She was formerly director of tax for IBM.

DigNet: Roger

Sampson, 45, was named executive director of the nonprofit dedicated to the protection of underground facilities. He had been a local manager at Verizon Communications.

Miller Buckfire & Co.: Kevin Stabl, 39, was appointed managing director of the investment banking firm. He was previously managing director and co-head of U.S. real estate investment banking at RBC Capital Markets.

NYSE Euronext: Tim Kinslow, 53, was named global head of systems development. He had been chief technology officer at Nimbleware Consulting.

W.P. Carey: Trevor P. Bond, 48, has been elected president and chief executive for the investment firm. He was previously interim chief executive.

—MAGGIE WELLS